APRIL 2018

Dear Friends,

Greetings from all of our kids, staff, and volunteers who make the orphan work in Whunga, Zimbabwe a great big success. The kids are doing very well, and are being loved by their “moms” and Phillip, their “dad”. They are learning more about loving themselves and their brothers and sisters every day. Thanks for helping make this possible.

As you can see in the top pictures, the knife making endeavor is going fantastically. All of the older boys have made at least one knife and are working on others. Artwell forged a hatchet as well. Peter Gondo, our sculptor, has come down from his home twice this month to work with the boys on their knives. It's paying off! Check out his brand new website www.petergondo.com.

Our volunteer team in April did a great job on the new workshop and storage building. The kids love to work with them when they come from different parts of the world. The floors have been poured and part of the walls have been built.

A super highlight of this last trip was the musical performed by our 20 kids and 132 kids from the villages around Whunga. What a glorious evening with 223 people to see this first ever children's musical in Whunga. God was glorified as the kids had memorized the biblical songs and the verses that went with them.

Thanks again for your partnership!

Blessings, Bill
